Don't be late for this very important date.
Eliza needs you to help celebrate!

As sure as Alice went through that small door,
On August Seventh Eliza turns four.

We'll meet at 11 at Oyster Bay Station.
The Mad Hatter's Tea Party is our destination.

In Locust Valley who knows what we'll see?
The March Hare? The Dormouse? Perhaps Tweedledee?

There'll be games and the Tea Party and finally cake.
After all of this fun the train back we will take.

On the way home we'll pass goody bags and balloons,
ghs, read a story and sing a few tunes.

ll all return home,
irthday, wave goodbye. That's the end of this poem.
